

Research Topics

Thomas Beamish: Bio-Safety or Bio-Hazard? Lay-Public Perceptions of Project Bioshield

Sam Brody: Modeling Watershed Flooding and Adaptive Flood Management: An Integrative Plan for Research, Teaching, and Learning

Joann Carmin: The Role of Nongovernmental Organizations in Disaster Preparedness, Response, and Recovery

Joshua Comenetz: The Human Dimension of Natural Disasters: Long-term demographic impact of hurricanes in Florida

Tom Cova: Decision support for Protective Actions in Wildfires

Robin Dillon-Merrill: Correctly Interpreting Precursor Events

Brian Gerber: Explaining the Dynamics of State and Local Governments' Homeland Security Policy Commitment and Capacity

Ufuk Ince: Determinants of Earthquake Mitigation Decisions by Public Corporations

Marlys Mason: Inconsistencies in Mass Media and Peer Network Risk Communication

Chris Mayhorn: Preparedness and Risk Communications for Radiological Disasters: Exploring the Vulnerability of Older Adults

Colin Polsky: Reducing Vulnerability to the Effects of Global Change: Drought Management in a Multi-Scale, Multi-Stressor World

Scott Robinson: Emergency Preparedness Policymaking in Schools: The Impacts of Participation and Bureaucratization

Jenny Rudolph: Crisis management decision-making in high-stakes, collaborative environments

Dietram Scheufele: Processing Risk Information on Homeland Security

Deborah Thomas: Spatial-analytical Approach to Defining Vulnerability